

Magazines for Literacy

MagazineLiteracy.org provides free recycled magazines to those who cannot afford to buy them, allowing everyone to have the opportunity to read. This organization is run by volunteers in the state of Connecticut who are striving to increase literacy rates.

- These magazines are FREE to food pantries, job programs, literacy programs, and other service agencies
- Ordering and delivery are free, just contact us anytime
- We can also help you display these magazines at your location for easy client access
